Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claim 12 recites the limitation "the security label" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Crum.

The method for filling a prescription with at least a portion of the contents stored in a bulk container disclosed by Crum includes all the claimed features and in particular includes: (claims 1, 8, 16) transferring pharmaceutical contents from a bulk container to a consumer container, the bulk container containing a security label including a primary label 80 adhered to the bulk container 94, a piggyback label 22 having identification features removably secured to the primary label; removing the piggyback label from the bulk container and applying the label to a consumer container thus ensuring authenticity (column 4, lines 2-8); (claims 2, 3) reviewing a prescription, the prescription prescribing a number of units of pharmaceutical products and transferring the products from a bulk container to a consumer container (column 4, lines 2-8); (claims 4-6, 12-14, 18, 19) the primary label including an expanded content device 34 including a page 36 to which the piggyback label 22 is removably attached and wherein the page 36 is folded out from the expanded content device; (claims 7, 15, 17) the security label includes indicia identifying the contents; and (claim 11) the primary label including instructions for removing the piggyback label and transferring it to the second container (column 4, lines 64, 65).

With regard to claims 9 and 10, the method including quantitatively measuring the pharmaceutical products before the contents transferring step is a step that is inherent in most if not all pharmacy settings and while Crum does not affirmatively disclose this step it is inherent in view that Crum discloses its method is used in a pharmacy setting.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following is cited to show the art with respect to piggyback labels for labeling containers: Shanley.
